Michael Bruun Pedersen, from Denmark, studied at Andebølle Youth College in 2010. Here he talks about this experience and about his new life after the semester in the school.

Why did you choose to study at Andebølle Ungdomshøjskole? How did you hear about the school?

I choose to go there because of Psychology class. I heard about Andebølle from my mentor, so I decided to go.

Did you feel yourself at home in the school, with the other students and with the teachers? What did you like/dislike about Andebølle?

Yes, I felt like home there. We were like one big family up there, it was nice, but I liked most of it, except that it was so far away from everything.

What do you miss the most of Andebølle and what do you remember most about this experience abroad?

I miss the people that I spent my time with and the teachers. The one thing I remember the most is the Theatre class. It was the first time I was doing that (stage fright!).

Was your semester at Andebølle important for your life and for your cultural and personal development? If yes, in which way?

Yes, it was very important for me. I went there to become more mature and more social and I think I did it well, with all the different cultures and stuff it was just what I needed.

What are you doing at the moment and what are your plans for the future?

Right now I'm working at a store but I'm going to work at a kindergarten soon, to be a Pedagogue.
